

Let's plant trees to help our planet!

The Rotary Club of Port Nicholson have teamed up with The Friends of Tawa Bush Reserves to plant trees at the Tawa Bush Reserve on Sunday June 12th at 1pm.

Our goal is to build on what we have done in the four previous years and continue planting native trees in Tawa. This is helping to regenerate our native Bush to provide habitat and food for the increasing numbers of native birds, to make lovely walking areas for us all, and to help slow down climate change. Everyone is very welcome including family and friends. Interact and Rotaract members are also very welcome to join us! We had a huge turnout from Interact last year and together we planted nearly 500 trees in record time! We ran out of trees before planting our 2,000th tree. We will achieve that this year and many more.

If you would like to take part, please contact Lisa King (landm.king@xtra.co.nz or 021 265 6220), Community Services Committee, who is also a member of The Friends of Tawa Bush Reserves and coordinating our Club's participation. Let Lisa know your mobile phone number and email address so she can send you further information about the tree planting and also contact you if we need to defer the tree planting for any reason. Thank you for helping us with this important initiative.
